Introduction

The University of Alaska Fairbanks, the nation's northernmost Land-Grant university and international research center, advances and disseminates knowledge through teaching, research and public service with an emphasis on Alaska, the circumpolar North and their diverse peoples. UAF—America's arctic university promotes academic excellence, student success, and lifelong learning.

UAF is a public research university located in Fairbanks, Alaska. UAF was established in 1909, and in 2010, UAF merged with the University of Alaska Anchorage (UAA) to form the University of Alaska System (UAS). UAF is a member of the Association of Public Land-Grant Universities (APLU) and the Association of Arctic Universities (AAU). UAF is also a member of the Association of American Universities (AAU) and the Association of Public Research Universities (APRU).
