In the determination of the workload for this faculty member, the required signature is that of the dean/director for the school where the majority of the workload is to be performed. If the dean/director is not available, the signature of the department chair/head in light of the above definitions is provided in Article 13 of the collective bargaining agreement. The signature for the dean/director is not technically required. It is, of course, incumbent upon the faculty to confer with all involved parties.
